An optical module includes a high-thermal-expansion ceramic substrate on which is mounted a planar lightwave circuit as well as at least one device component.

Herein, we proposed an optical strategy to bidirectionally regulate denitrification by introducing lights at different wavelengths, and the underlying mechanisms were elucidated accordingly.

Fabrication and high photocatalytic performance of noble metal nanoparticles supported on 3DOM InVO4-BiVO4 for the visible-light-driven degradation of rhodamine B and methylene ... R Song, J ...

It has two sets of optical systems, each including a light source and a detector, so it is possible to measure two types of fluorescent reagents with one module.

In this study, we discover that the specific content of these micro-regions, such as graphite-like, pseudo-graphitic, and highly-disordered structures, can be facilely tuned by the insertion of nitrogen into the ...
